

To Whom it May Concern,

Arinex has partnered with Dr Anthony Llewellyn, founder of AdvanceMed, to create the first “Future Proof – The Online Medical Education Summit”.

This Summit will be held twice a month for 4 hours at a time. It will provide a series of carefully selected live online talks and different workshops every month. We are aiming to launch the summit on the 24th July 2020.

Arinex is one of Australia’s longest-standing and reputable event management companies and we have identified that since Covid-19, there has been a lack of opportunities for those involved in medical education training to submit work and exchange ideas at a medical conference. Whilst we have seen a surge in webinars, they are focused on specialised areas and objectives which do not provide participants the opportunity to share and explore findings.

As a supporter of the Medical Education field, our founder Roslyn McLeod, has chosen to finance this opportunity and allocate resources to develop this project. Whilst the event is in the early stages of development, we believe that it is important we approach you first in light of our professional relationship to get your input on what you believe are the key themes our Conference should be discussing.

The MedEd Summit aims to bring together academics, clinical educators and supervisors, directors of training, medical educators, professional support staff, trainees, junior doctors, and medical students from Australia and Asia-Pacific. The Summit will provide a platform to share the latest research findings and discuss important current issues in the medical education space. A key focus of this summit will be to encourage a collaborative approach and act as a buzzing medical hub where delegates come to share ideas for the advancement of the field.

Arinex believes in this project and has the resources to deliver this offering to the field, however we also believe we need to establish an alliance of supporters for The Online Medical Education Summit. We would like to invite you, to become an Event Supporter. As such, you would be acknowledged as co-host of this event and would assist in promoting the events to your networks. We believe that our partnership will also provide all delegates the opportunity to understand the importance, mission and impact that can bring to their professional development and improvement of medical practices within the medical education field.

As part of this partnership, MedEd Summit would be able to offer you the following benefits:

- Exclusive 10% discount to your members on our full price registration;
- 5 complimentary registrations.
- Promotional listing on the MedEd Summit website.
- Inclusion of 1 advertisement in our newsletter

Should you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact us, alternatively, please respond to us via futuremeded@arinex.com.au

We look forward to your participation and contribution to the success of MedEd Summit 2020.

Kind regards
